

The Independent Assessor

of the Financial Ombudsman Service Australia

John Warde

John Warde is a Sydney-based former lawyer, with almost 30 years' experience in dispute resolution, litigation and regulatory investigations in Australia and overseas.

Before being appointed in September 2017 as the inaugural Independent Assessor of the Financial Ombudsman Service Australia, John was a senior partner of a major Australian and international law firm. He previously acted as a prosecutor of financial markets participants on behalf of the Australian Securities Exchange.

As well as his admissions to practice in Australia, John has been admitted to practice in US Federal Court, the State of California, England & Wales and Ireland.
